

WAR SAVING STAMPS

The Sale Has Lulled on Account of Other Interests

On account of the great efforts made to bring the third Liberty loan and the Red Cross drives over the top the attention of the people have been taken off of the war savings and thrift stamps and focused on these government demands. The work of these drives has been accomplished, and accomplished well, and the attention of the public will now be called to war savings. Carroll county has purchased about $70,000 of these stamps, but this does not anything like represent the county's quota. There is yet much work to be done.

The buying of these stamps is in a measure a patriotic duty, but it is also an investment that the government wants you to make, and one that will yield a nice income.

Buena Vista News

This is fine growing weather and crops are doing splendid.

Miss Cassie Brewer returned home Sunday, after a visit in Lexington.

Green King has returned from a visit with his sister in Gibson county.

Mrs. Bettie Lassiter has returned from a visit in Kentucky, and is now with her son, W. H. Lassiter.

The people of this place were pleasantly entertained when a play was presented here by local talent from Wildersville.

Mrs. Mary E. King, who has been confined to her bed for the past two months, we are glad to note, is able to be up and around again.

Elmer Robinson, who held a position in Jackson, has returned home to pay a visit to home folk before answering his country's call.

Mrs. O. T. Massey and daughter, Claudine, have left for Nebraska, where they will visit Mrs. Massey's sister and her son, Floyd Massey.

There are some improvements being made here. Messrs W. A. Butler, G. C. Kee and Dr. Murphy have had considerable painting done on their buildings.

There is to be a new sawmill and stove factory here. Part of the machinery is on the ground and we understand work on it will begin soon.

Misses Bess Clement and Julia Hall, accompanied by Joe Utley and Ray Merrick, of Westport, attended the play here, under the auspices of local talent from Wildersville. These young people were welcomed very much as Misses Clement and Hall are former teachers in the Buena Vista school.

The Red Cross is an enthusiastic organization, under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Lassiter. Ice cream is served for the benefit of the local auxiliary. We have some fine workers and the proceeds are always good. P. W. Maddox spoke here Saturday night, May 25. This was in behalf of the Red Cross campaign.

Farm Notes

We who grumbled about the cool nights which held cotton back last year now have no kick coming. The temperature is warm enough and "little stuff" is growing" according to general reports. Cross harrowing continues with young cotton and corn, and many farmers who have done none or little of this work before, are now cross harrowing their entire crop from one to three times. This is not only a good method of cultivation, but it also saves a great deal of time and labor. This is especially true in regard to cotton, where the cross harrowing saves so much of the labor usually involved in scraping and hoeing.

Lois Miller, of the Hico community, has a four-acre demonstration in corn, which shows the effect of thorough preparation and frequent cross harrowing.

A terracing demonstration was given on the farm of L. G. Butler Wednesday by County Agent C. H. Moody, who used one of the inexpensive farm levels, such as are advertised in agricultural papers. Running the line of levels was shown to be a simple and easy matter. The only objection was that a considerable amount of stove wood was used for stakes.

E. Hilliard, of the Lankford community, is cultivating two and one-half acres of corn as a demonstration, with good results. His record shows nine operations in preparing the land up to time of planting. This contrasts sharply with the customary "break, harrow and plant" procedure followed by many people. The record will prove whether or not it pays. The average yield of corn on his farm last year was ten barrels per acre, and he attributes this largely to thorough preparation and frequent shallow cultivation.

A good field meeting was held at Rice's store Thursday of last week. Rice Bros. and C. S. Muzzell are doing some nice demonstration work, under the direction of the county agent. Pure-bred seed corn was used, and some improved farming implements were purchased so the work could be well done. The section harrow is proving popular, and it was stated there last week that "there has been more cross harrowing this spring than in the past five years put together." Before the meeting adjourned an order was made for tankage for hog feed.

In view of the fact that 100 pounds of tankage will replace eight to ten bushels of corn when fed to hogs, several farmers are learning that it is economy to sell corn and buy tankage rather than grow hogs without it.

Monday afternoon a field meeting was held on the corn club acre of J. C. Wood, of Rosser. Examination showed that this three week old corn had a very extensive root system. He uses a "Gee Whiz."

NOT A CANDIDATE

Gov. T. C. Rye Says Such a Statement is Unauthorized

While in Camden last Saturday to deliver a Red Cross address, Gov. Tom C. Rye was asked if the report that he was a candidate for the senate was true. The governor replied "The report is absolutely untrue and was unauthorized."

It had been reported from some sections of the state that the governor was a candidate for the United States senate and that Gen. Cates would withdraw from the race.

The governor had not spoken in Camden since the opening of his first gubernatorial campaign. He had a large crowd, made a fine speech and quite a sum was subscribed to the Red Cross.

Since the above was put in type Governor Rye has entered the race.

Te Speak Here

Hon. Clyde Shropshire, of Davidson county, a candidate for governor, opens his campaign for the democratic nomination at Camden Saturday, June 1, which is tomorrow. Mr. Shropshire will speak in Huntingdon Wednesday, June 5. He will speak at the court house. Mr. Shropshire promises to give the people something to think about if they will come out and hear him.

Died Young

Dollie, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newt Crews, died at their home near Atwood Sunday, May 26. The death was caused from a complication of diseases. The burial occurred Monday at the Shiloh burying ground, after appropriate funeral and burial services. The bereaved family has the sympathy of a large number of friends.

Cooks Desert Kitchens

Huntingdon housewives may do their own cooking, housework and washing the next two or three weeks or let it go undone—the colored women have gone to the fields with their hoes and are chopping cotton at the war price of $1.50 a day. Many of them are carried to the fields in wagons.

STRETCHING PARIS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF FRANCE

THE RED CROSS HAS HELPED WHERE GOVERNMENTS WERE HELPLESS.

The avalanche of refugees that swept into Paris from the north of France had been the despair of the civil authorities. These homeless, stunned people were a new responsibility to be added to the thousands of wounded men that came steadily from the shambles of the west front.

Paris is an old city. It was not ready to take in its neighbors' children. Its population was already a tight fit. So it made the best of its poor hospitality by offering up its garrets. New building construction seemed impossible. Men were scarce. The mechanic was either manning the trenches or fighting the fight in the war factories. Paris was distracted.

It is wonderful indeed how nobly Paris tried to meet this condition. And it is remarkable how Paris met it with the aid of our own Red Cross. Unhindered by red tape or precedent, our Red Cross put on overalls and jumper, carried the load, became architect, engineer and contractor and went into the building of homes. Here was a church lot that lay vacant; here an unfinished hospital; there a worn out building, all of which in a fortnight were started on their way toward new apartments, rooms and sleeping wards.

We here at home who associate the great Red Cross movement with bandages and white-gowned nurses must lose this old illusion in the light of a thousand other works for humanity. In this case we see the Red Cross first as diplomats convincing the civil authorities of Paris as to their ability to remedy the situation, then as architects remodeling buildings, changing building plans, hiring labor gathered by themselves from the ex-soldier and the older man, all the while working under every imaginable handicap, while Father Time cried, "Get it done, get it done."

So out of the garrets came these despairing people to find new hope in clean homes, to get new cheer out of sheer bodily comfort and fresh courage to again take up the great trust that France has kept so well—"to carry on." It is not strange that our French brothers believe in your own Red Cross just a little more than you do. But should this be?

EVERETT RESPONDS

Grows Critical in Replying to Sims' Answer

Judge Everett requests us to publish the following letter in the event Mr. Sims' answer to his challenge for a joint canvass is published in our columns.

Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:—Your letter of great length, declining to enter into joint debate has been received. It reads like a page torn from your old campaign speeches.

Old Atlas must surely feel greatly relieved, since from your letter, you seem to have the western hemisphere on your shoulders.

If, unfortunately, you should die, McAdoo would, no doubt, be at a loss to know how to run the railroads, and important legislation would fail for the want of a champion.

Since reading your letter, I have wondered what the other twenty members of the interstate and foreign commerce committee are doing, or why such men as Frank E. Doremus, of Michigan; Sam Rayburn, of Texas; Andrew J. Montague, of Virginia, and many other distinguished men from seventeen states should be on the committee, since your letter would indicate that you are doing all the work.

You say "our district is close if both parties poll the same percentage of voting strength." I suppose you have in mind how "dangerously near" you came near being defeated by your republican opponent in the last election, when eight or nine hundred democrats not only refused to vote for you, but actually voted for your republican opponent. The returns from the last election in this congressional district, as you doubtless know, show that you trailed behind the democratic ticket more than twenty-one hundred votes, and beat your republican opponent only 221 votes, while Governor Rye in his district, beat Overall 2,331, and President Wilson beat Judge Hughes 2,352. Which shows that the district is not close when the nominee is able to poll the strength of his party, which you miserably failed to do.

With that record behind you, no wonder you do not want to face an opponent on the stump. I shall make my appointments and feel free to discuss your public record. If at any time before the election you should decide to join me in debate, I will cancel my appointments and arrange new dates with you.

I shall hand this letter to the press. Yours truly,
S. J. EVERETT.

Red Cross Fund

A special published in Wednesday's papers from Washington says: Final figures on the second American Red Cross war mercy fund still were incomplete tonight, but on the face of latest returns, the fund was oversubscribed $48,835,367. Figures yet to be received were expected to carry the total to $150,000,000.

MERCHANT ACCUSED

Much Excitement in Trial Before Commissioner Lee

Ben Franklin Hunter, a Paris merchant, a contributor to local newspapers and a writer of poetry, was brought here and tried before United States Commissioner A. M. Lee last Saturday. He was charged with disloyalty to the government and guilty of acts unbecoming an American citizen.

The proof showed that he was opposed to the war, that he is very eccentric in his nature, and declined to permit placards for the third Liberty loan or for the Red Cross or flags to be placed about his business house. Wednesday night of last week when Capt. Guest had spoken in Paris a number of patriotic citizens went to the front of Mr. Hunter's store and tacked up some United States flags, also British and French flags. These were immediately torn down by some member of the family, it was charged, which led to the arrest. After hearing the proof Commissioner Lee discharged him.

Previous to the trial, however, Hunter made a statement in which he said that he had been over-radical and that he was willing to help the Red Cross and make a public apology.

A number of Parisians attended the trial and testified for and against the defendant. The incident created much feeling in Paris and for a while it looked like Hunter would be treated roughly. But he was placed in jail to prevent personal injury and for shooting off his pistol at the time the crowd was at his place of business.
